RUSSIAN FOOD SITUATION RAPIDLY GROWING WORSE

Stockholm, Oct. 10.—(Monday.)—Russia's food situation is rapidly growing worse, especially in Petro- grad and Moscow, where the popu- lation are subsisting chiefly on the potatoes which should be saved for the winter.

Henry A. Laehrs, an American engineer and manufacturer, who has lived for many years in Moscow, ar- rived in Stockholm today with his family, having made the trip via Finland in ten days. Mr. Laehrs says that in Petrograd the food sit- uation is far worse than in Mos- cow. The soviet in Petrograd has closed all markets and shops and will not allow any food to be sold privately.

Without oil and coal, and with little wood on hand, Moscow and Petrograd, Mr. Laehrs said, are fac- ing a desperate winter.
